MOLINEUX ACQUITTED.

Jury After Brief Deliberation Finds Him Not Guilty.

THE END OF A CELEBRATED CASE.

Defendant Severely Arraigned in the Summing Up of the Evidence by the State's Attorney—Incidents of the Case.

New York, Nov. 11.—More than a thousand persons crowded the corridors of the criminal court building and fought for admission to the room where Justice Lambert is sitting in the Molineux trial. After the usual preliminaries, Assistant District Attorney Osborne resumed his summing up. He said ex-Governor Black should make a mis-statement when he declared the experts had testified that the writing on the poison package wrapper was not in a disguised hand. Mr. Osborne read extracts from the testimony to show that two out of three of the experts had found the address disguised. Mr. Osborne argued that the Barnett letters, the earliest in the case, gave the first evidence of an attempt to disguise and that the disguise improved with every letter exhibit. He declared that the earlier

ROLAND B. MOLINEUX.

Barnett letters conformed almost exactly to the handwriting of Molineux. The prosecution took up the matter of the letter boxes and declared the hiring of the Koch box in Cornish's name was an act of hostility to Cornish. Talking of Koch, who sold to a newspaper an identification of Molineux as a man who had talked to him on Dec. 17, 1899, about hiring a letter box, Mr. Osborne said he would not himself insult the jury by asking a conviction upon such evidence.

"This defendant and Barnett," Mr. Osborne continued, "were friends, living near each other on the same floor of the Knickerbocker Athletic club. They were paying attention to the same lady. She rejected Molineux. Barnett died eight days later. Molineux bought for the woman an engagement ring. The wedding was very sudden." Mr. Osborne took up the Burns, Cornish and Barnett letters, the first two asking for certain remedies and the third for a "marriage guide," and declared that the envelope matched the paper of the Cornish letter and that the wording of the conceded Burns letter was identical with the wording of the Cornish letter. "This case," counsel said, in concluding his talk on the handwriting, "does not depend upon any witnesses who may lie, but on the common sense and intelligence of the jury. Governor Black said in defining circumstantial evidence that every circumstance must point to the one man as the magnetic needle points to the pole. Every circumstance in this case points to Molineux."

Mr. Osborne pointed out again the circumstances upon which he relied upon for a conviction, turning at each mention of Molineux's name to point his finger at the defendant.

Molineux sat unmoved at the arraignment, but attentive to every word of it. Not so with his father. The old general was visibly affected by the words of the prosecuting officer and Cecil Molineux, the prisoner's brother, was very nervous. In his concluding words, Mr. Osborne begged the jury not to let their feelings run away with their judgment and not to refuse to convict through timidity. It was past noon when Mr. Osborne was through and then Justice Lambert suspended proceedings until 1:15 o'clock.

The Judge's Charge.

Justice Lambert delivered his charge. "Katherine J. Adams," he began, "died on Dec. 18, 1898, and the defendant is charged with the responsibility for her death. The defendant may be convicted, if you find the sentence adequate of murder in the first degree, or if you think well of murder in the second or of manslaughter in the first degree, or of manslaughter in the second degree. It is contended here by the people," he went on, "that if this defendant is found guilty he will be guilty of murder in the first degree. The defendant by his counsel has made no argument in this regard, but you are required to consider those things in reaching your decision. The defendant is presumed to be innocent until the evidence shows his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. The burden of proof never shifts. It is always with the state to prove guilt and not for the defendant to prove innocence. It is not easy to impart to a jury the legal definition of a reasonable doubt. If his guilt has not been shown to you beyond a reasonable doubt you must acquit him. Reasonable doubt should be actual and substantial and not founded on a mere possibility."

The Molineux jury retired at 3:10 to consider their verdict.

Found Not Guilty.

The Molineux jury was brought into court at 3:35. At the same time Molineux was taken from the Tombs into the court and District Attorney Jerome was summoned. On his arrival the court room was locked and no one was allowed to enter or leave it. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Although the jury was out about 25 minutes, they agreed on their verdict within 10 minutes after leaving the court room. Notice was immediately given but it took some minutes to re-assemble the court. Among the first persons to re-enter the court room was Assistant District Attorney Osborne, who seemed to be nervous as he waited for the verdict.

When the foreman announced the verdict of acquittal there was much applause and the cheering extended to the crowd waiting outside in the corridors and on the street.

LOVE TRAGEDY

Enacted at London in Full View of Hundreds of People.

London, Nov. 11.—A sensational love tragedy has been enacted in this city in full view of hundreds of people. A young woman named Kitty Byron, 23, stabbed to death her lover, Arthur Reginald Baker, a well known member of the Stock Exchange. Before the woman could move she was seized by several witnesses of the deed and given into custody. The crime, which had every element of sensationalism, took place just outside the Lombard street postoffice. For several minutes the couple engaged in conversation near the counter. Then their voices rose and the clerks noticed that they were quarreling. Finally the man turned toward the street with a gesture intimating that he wished to end the interview. He passed through the door. The woman followed nervously handling the muff and dealt the man a terrible blow in the back. As he half staggered and then partially turned around with one foot on the lower step, the woman withdrew the weapon and struck again, this time plunging it into his left breast. The man gasped and fell heavily forward, his head striking the stone pavement. Baker's wife lately instituted divorce proceedings.

Will Be No Trouble.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 11.—Discussing the demand for increased wages among the railway brotherhoods in the employ of western lines, President Ripley of the Santa Fe railroad said: "So far as the Santa Fe is concerned, we have had it intimated the subject soon will be submitted. Up to this time no formal request has been made. What the new schedules are so proposed I do not know, and knowing the general conservatism of railroad brotherhoods, I am convinced both sides in any controversy that may come will settle their affairs amicably. I will not say there will be no trouble, for the statement might be misconstrued, but I am convinced that what difference come up will be adjusted by the reasonable stand of all parties to the controversy."

Fight of Baseball Leagues.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—T. J. Hickey, president of the American Association of Baseball clubs, is spending several weeks in California with a view to getting the California league to consolidate with his organization and thus in part defeat the plans of the association of the minor league clubs which includes all the lesser leagues of the United States except the now Southern league, now in process of formation. If the Southern league decides to join with the majority the local league will be the only one outside the pale, and Secretary Farrell is making every endeavor to perfect his organization by having California come in. A decision has not yet been reached here.

Washington, Nov. 11.—A cablegram received at the state department from United States Minister Bowen at Caracas announces the return of President Castro to that capital. The minister adds that he has been informed that the executive branch of the government is now re-established at Caracas. He indicates that the war is over.

IN A STATE OF SIEGE.

Government of Bolivia Issues a Startling Decree.

SAYS THE COUNTRY IS THREATENED.

Insurgents Score a Decided Success at Acre, the Bolivian Commander Capitulating—Intense Excitement Throughout Republic.

New York, Nov. 11.—Citizens of this city were astonished Saturday evening, says a dispatch from La Paz, Bolivia, via Taona, Chili, when government officials posted through the town postcards which declared the whole republic of Bolivia in a state of siege, owing to the country being threatened. The decree caused intense excitement because of the unexpectedness of the announcement and the ignorance of the reason for the government adopting such a step. Two rumors were heard. One was that the Bolivians had been completely defeated in Acre. The other was that 2,000 Peruvians were on the frontier near the Madre de Dios river.

El Comercio de Bolivia prints these following dispatches:

Manaos, Nov. 7.—Rojas surrendered at Empesa for lack of ammunition. Montero, vice consul.

Petropolis, Nov. 8.—Advices Oct. 15 confirmed. Rojas capitulated. Returns Bolivia via Manaus. Prindilla, minister of Bolivia, in Brazil.

El Comercio in commenting on the situation, says: "The exact seriousness of the news from Acre is unknown, but the government must be in possession of grave news, to take such measures and to declare a state of siege, which appears unnecessary, as the entire country, without distinction of party or class, will stand by the government. Some persons attribute the government's action to a desire to obtain popularity and put an end to the senate's opposition to conclude arrangements with Chili. These charges we regard as unfounded and we recommend that the government make public all news from Acre immediately after received."

Colonel Rojas, to whom reference is made in the official dispatches to the Bolivian government, was the commander of the Bolivian forces in Acre.

Bolivians Defeated.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 11.—Dispatches received here from La Paz, Bolivia, confirm the report that the government of that republic on Saturday declared Bolivia to be in a state of siege. It is rumored this step was due to the Bolivians having been defeated by the revolutionists in Acre and owing to the presence of Peruvian forces on the frontier.

General Bragg Returns.

Washington, Nov. 11.—General Bragg, consul at Havana, who has exchanged posts with Consul General Rublee at Hongkong, has arrived in Washington and called at the state department to consult the officials in regard to his new duties. Before going to China, General Bragg will visit his home in Wisconsin and attend to private business. He expects to return to Washington and meet Consul General Rublee, who left Hongkong about Nov. 1. The two will exchange commissions and proceed to their respective posts. General Bragg is accompanied by Mrs. Bragg.

Postmaster Indicted.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 11.—The federal grand jury returned indictments against Postmaster Limer Herndon of Baldwin, Mich., and D. H. Miller of Chicago, who were arrested last month on a charge of running a lottery and promotion scheme through the fraudulent use of the mails. In the case of County Treasurer Homer Cutler of Lake county, arrested on the same charge, a "no true bill" was returned. When arraigned in court Miller pleaded guilty and Herndon pleaded not guilty. The alleged lottery scheme was intended to boom the village of Baldwin.

Window Glass Men.

Pittsburg, Nov. 11.—The National Window Glass Jobbers' association closed its conference in the Hotel Henry. The demoralized condition of the window glass market resulting from the jobbers abiding the price list caused the meeting to be called. It was thought when the meeting opened that it would be disrupted by a vote of the association. After a conference with the jobbers and manufacturers the whole matter was turned over to the executive committee of the jobbers and another meeting will be held within the next few days to settle the differences.

London, Nov. 11.—The foreign office has been notified that the Turkish ambassador to Great Britain, Costakki Antopolu Pasha, died at Constantinople of pneumonia.

MASON FREE.

George Perry, the Negro, Held For the Murder of the Marion Girl.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 11.—The discharge of Alan G. Mason, the Boston clubman accused of the murder of Clara A. Morton at Waverly, a week ago last Sunday night, was ordered by Judge Charles Almy of the Third district court of Eastern Middlesex. The government lawyer announced that an investigation had failed to disclose evidence sufficient to hold the accused man and ordered the discharge of Mason. Almost immediately in the same court, George I. O. Perry, a young negro, who was held as a witness against Mason, was charged with the murder of Miss Morton. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded without bail for a hearing Nov. 18. After his release Mason held an informal reception and after a short time was driven to his home in Boston.

Before Perry was taken back to jail a number of persons were permitted to have a look at him. One of the witnesses in the Mason case, Miss Albertson, who is employed at a Waverly restaurant, identified Perry as the negro whom she saw in Waverly on night of the assault upon Miss Morton. While he was being looked at, Perry grew impatient and angry. He cursed Nemesis, the pawnbroker, who had just declared that Perry was the person who sold him the watches of Miss McPhee and Miss Morton and threatened the police with vengeance. Although Perry is accused of murder, the police feel certain that he had an accomplice. They believe there is another and older negro involved.

FEARS ASSASSINATION.

Sensational Affidavits Filed in a Kentucky Feud Case.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 11.—Two of the most sensational affidavits ever filed in a Kentucky court have just been filed at Jackson, Breathitt county. That county is the scene of the Hargis-Cockrill feud, and within its borders 30 men have been killed this year. A number were assassinated and are accredited to on or another of the factions, while several men are exiled from the county because of their fear of assassination. The affidavits are by Attorney J. B. Marcum and Moses Feltner, his client, accused of the killing of Jesse Flelds. The purpose of the affidavits is to secure a continuance in the case of Feltner. They follow on the heels of sensational statements contained in a letter written to Circuit Judge Redwine of Breathitt by John Patrick, an exile living in this city, in which he said he knew who killed James Cockrill, being an eye-witness, but declines to return to Jackson to testify unless the governor will send a company of militia to protect him, alleging that a deputy sheriff attempted to assassinate him, and that persons who desire his death will kill him if he returns without the protection of troops. In his affidavit Moses Feltner tells in detail of alleged plots to kill Attorney J. B. Marcum. In several he was to do the work, he says, and fearing to refuse, pretended to acquiesce, but warned Marcum each time so that the plans failed.

Newfoundland Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 11.—An important feature of the reciprocity treaty just negotiated with Newfoundland is a safeguard against the differential in favor of all goods entering Newfoundland from England or any of the British colonies. This differential in the case of the Dominion amounts to 33 per cent, which is a very heavy handicap upon imports from the United States. It is true the differential has not yet been imposed by Newfoundland upon our goods, but it is learned that it was the purpose to do so and the result would be the loss of most of the trade with Newfoundland is not doubted here. As it is, the treaty provides against the imposition of the differential duties.

Pretender's Force Crushed.

London, Nov. 11.—The pretender to the throne, with a large following, attacked the Moroccan army at layb Reak on Nov. 3, says a dispatch from Fez. The invaders penetrated the camp, but the sultan's troops rallied and drove off the rebels, whom they pursued, inflicting much loss. The pretender, with some of his followers, took refuge in a native castle, which the troops attacked, captured and burned on Nov. 4. Many rebels were killed or taken prisoners, but the pretender escaped. The pretender's followers are now said to be searching for him. His prestige is alleged to have vanished, as he promised miraculous intervention and the complete annihilation of the sultan's troops.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The president has appointed William Michael Byrne to be United States district attorney for Delaware. Mr. Byrne resigned this position last October and was a candidate for congress in the recent election as a Union Republican. He, however, was defeated and has now been given back his old place.

REPLIES TO MITCHELL

President Baer's Note to the Anthracite Strike Commission.

HE ENTERS A SERIES OF DENIALS.

United Mine Workers' Organization Blamed For Certain Conditions in the Coal Fields—Brief Summary of the Response.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The reply of President George F. Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal company, to the charges of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, has been presented to the anthracite coal commission and was given to the public. Mr. Baer makes no reference to Mr. Mitchell, as the president of the miners' organization, but refers to him simply as an individual. Taking up the specifications in Mr. Mitchell's charges, serially, Mr. Baer first admits that his company owns 37 collieries and that before the strike it employed 26,829 people. Following is a brief summary of the response to Mr. Mitchell's other specifications:

Second.—The demand for 20 per cent increase in wages on piece work is denounced as "arbitrary, unreasonable and unjust." The company contends that after making all necessary allowance for different conditions that the rate of wages paid, mining of anthracite coal is as high as that paid in the bituminous coal fields.

Third.—The company denies that the present scale of wages is lower than is paid in other occupations in the same locality and controlled by like conditions.

Fourth and fifth.—Mr. Baer denies that the earnings of the anthracite workers are less than average earnings for other occupations requiring skill and training and also the charge that the earnings are insufficient because of the dangerous character of work in the anthracite mines.

Sixth.—This specification made by Mr. Mitchell is referred to as too vague for specific answer, but in a general way it is stated that the anthracite regions are among the most prosperous in the United States.

Seventh.—The company pronounces as unjust and inequitable the demand for a reduction of 20 per cent in hours of labor without a reduction of earnings for time employees, and this demand is pronounced impracticable. In this connection the following statement is made: "Because of the injury to the mines by the strike of the United Mine Workers, the cost of producing coal has been greatly increased and a temporary advance in price was made by this company, but it will be impracticable to continue such increase when mining operations become normal."

Eighth.—Mr. Baer says that his company has had no disagreement with any of its employees about the weighing of coal, because the quantity is usually determined by measurement and not by weight.

Ninth.—Replying to the fourth demand made by Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Baer says since the advent of the United Mine Workers' organization into the anthracite fields, the conditions there have been intolerable, that the output of the mines has decreased; that the discipline has been destroyed; that strikes have been of almost daily occurrence; that men have worked when and as they pleased, and that the cost of mining has been greatly increased.

Mr. Baer also takes the position that the jurisdiction of the commission is limited to the conditions named by the coal company presidents, which excludes the United Mine Workers from any recognition. He says, however, that when a labor organization limited to anthracite mine workers is created which shall obey the law, respect the right of every man to work and honestly cooperate with employers, trade agreements may become practicable.

British Coal Station.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Advices received from Fiji state that the British government is preparing to establish a naval coal station on the island of Suvarrow in anticipation of the construction of the Isthmian canal. Suvarrow Island is to the eastward of Samoa and north of the Cook Islands. The government of Fiji will import into these islands 729 East Indians as contract laborers.

Tammany in Control.

New York, Nov. 11.—Tammany ball secured control of the board of aldermen, which had been controlled by the fusionists since January last. Four fusion Democrats voted with the Tammany men against a motion to declare that Joseph Krulish, a fusionist, had been rightfully elected a member of the board. The vote was 41 against 33 in favor of the motion.

RHODE ISLAND Democrats did well last week. They elected Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, one Congressman and thirty-six members of the lower branch of the Legislature.

The Washington Post, an independent newspaper, has these words of encouragement for Democrats: "A more leisurely survey of the post-hellum situation confirms us in the opinion, expressed on Wednesday morning, that the Democrats are the better for their defeat. They have abundant encouragement in the spectacle of a reunited Democracy. Their gain in so many important quarters, especially in New York, may be legitimately accepted as a stimulant. Evidently the party is more compact, coherent and homogeneous than at any time during the past ten years. Surely the real leaders now understand the nature of the problem that will confront them two years hence. They have only to discard the schisms that have crept into their philosophy, along with the demagogues and charlatans who introduced them. A return to the true principles and policies of Democracy and a dignified but resolute repudiation of all disreputable, catchpenny alliance will give them a powerful claim upon the respect and confidence of the country."

YOUTSEY'S CONFESSION.

Statement Made That It is in Judge Cantrill's Possession and That Other Indictments Will Follow.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 10.—That Henry E. Youtsey, the Campbell County man serving a life sentence in the State penitentiary here for complicity in the murder of the late Wm. Goebel, has made a statement concerning that affair, there seems to be no longer any doubt. The statement or "confession," as referred to generally here, it is said, was made to Judge James E. Cantrill, who presided at the trial of the prisoner in the latter part of July or early in August last. One attorney for the prosecution stated that such a statement is in existence, and Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin evades a question regarding it by referring the questioner to Judge Cantrill. What the statement contains is known only to the prosecution counsel in the Goebel conspiracy cases, and it will be kept from the public pending corroboration of its contents by parties named in its details.

KILLING IN FLEMING.

Walter Peck Waylaid and Shot by Frank Burgess While Returning From Church.

Walter Peck, son of John Peck, living near Crains, Fleming County, while returning home from church last night was waylaid and shot by Frank Burgess, dying shortly afterwards. The parties had trouble on Hollowell night.

A couple of men from Fleming reached here about midnight after Mason County's bloodhounds to run down the murderer. It was reported this morning that Burgess had been arrested.

Mr. Harold H. Collins and Miss Mae Miles were married Tuesday at Millersburg where she went Monday to visit relatives.

Mr. Julius S. Degman and Miss A. Glenn Elliott, of Springdale, were married Tuesday in this city, Rev. Mr. Owen of Tolleboro officiating.

In the case of May & Co. against Ball, pending in the Court of Appeals, a supplemental petition for a rehearing was filed by appellant Tuesday and submitted.

John T. Robb, aged sixty-six, and Mrs. Rebecca Bratton, fifty-three, both of Sardis, were married Tuesday. It was the bride's second and the groom's third marriage.

Senator Deboe's gubernatorial aspirations are said to be influenced by his desire to figure in the distribution of Kentucky patronage, on which Representative Boreing is expected to have a monopoly after March 4th.

Captain C. M. Phister, who is attending the annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Parkersburg, was yesterday appointed a member of the Committee on Nominations to select officers for ensuing year.

Your Presence is Desired

In our coat and suit department. A place where you are sure to meet quality and price in their happiest mood. If you haven't decided whether you want a long or short, a loose or tight fitting coat, let us show you the different styles. Some women look better in one than in another. If you haven't determined what suits you best, try on coats until you are satisfied. Our stock embraces twenty different styles and the prices begin at $3½ and stop just this side of $25.

FURS

When the qualities are perfectly honest, the styles the latest, the prices eminently fair, all conditions are satisfactorily filled. You buy furs here always assured of the above conditions. And this besides—never in our fifty years experience have we had so large an assortment. Remember, too, styles are as decided and prices as low as they will be in December. $1.25 buys an Electric Seal Cluster Scarf and prices advance from that—in about one dollar steps—to $18 for a genuine Isabella Fox Boa two yards long.

TESTIMONY IN MARSHALL CASE.

Several Physicians on the Stand in Rebuttal—Argument Began Tuesday.

CYNTHIANA, Ky., Nov. 10.—The testimony in the Marshall will case closed this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs. M. L. Marshall in rebuttal. Most of the day was consumed with expert testimony, Dr. Joe Patterson, of Kansas City, being the main witness examined. He formerly lived in Augusta and at one time was Marshall's physician. He denied in part a statement he was said to have made to his aunt, Mrs. Noah Patterson, that Marshall was of unsound mind. Mrs. Patterson stated in rebuttal that he had made such statement. Drs. Buck and Beebe, of Cincinnati, were introduced in rebuttal as to whether pain acted as an antidote to the evil effect of morphine on the brain. Both stated positively that it did not.

F. M. Fulkerson, Marshall's executor under the will, was introduced, and on cross-examination it appeared that the will he was attempting to probate had been antedated. The case will be argued to-morrow.

RUSH FOR WEALTH

Has Rendered the American Almost Anarchistic, Says Bishop White.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Conditions almost anarchistic prevail in the United States, according to John H. White, Episcopal Bishop of Northern Indiana. In a sermon at Grace Church yesterday he declared that the American people had forgotten their duties in a mad rush for wealth and fame.

"Every man for himself," he declared. "The typical American is heedless of how he achieves his end. Those that come in his way are trampled upon or pushed aside. It is this lack of respect for the wishes and rights of others that has brought about conditions in this country that border on the anarchistic."

"Our institutions," said the Bishop, "have had such a rapid growth and our progress has been so wonderful that we are filled with an admiration of ourselves that surpasses our admiration for anything else."

Our Idea of Trade-Building!

We believe that people wish to trade where they can do best, and that to get their trade it is necessary to do best by them. This is the principle that we have tried to apply, and it has proven effective.

We are sure that our business will keep on growing. It will grow because all those features that have brought trade are still in operation. We want your trade, and we ask for it solely on the basis of our intention and ability to do you good. We ask you to come here whenever you need anything that a druggist ought to sell, and feel sure that if you come once you will continue to come.

MISS ROSE OWENS,

No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

Miss Rose Owens.

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day, in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes: "I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

A large crowd was assembled at Stone Lick Church Tuesday of last week awaiting the arrival of the funeral procession of the ill-fated little Lawrence Webster, whose remains were taken into the church and viewed by the many sorrowing relatives and friends of the grief-stricken family in this vicinity, after which the body was laid to rest, the little mound being literally covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers, among them a loving tribute of unique design presented by his sorrowful schoolmates of Helena.

In Memory of Mother.

Life's race well run—
Life's work well done—
Life's reward well won—
Now, comes rest.

For twenty-two long years the racking pains and anguish of physical torment have shown plainly that a pent-up soul was being purified and prepared for the sweetness of eternal rest, and when he who gave her to us, gave also the final summons—the angels' forms of our dear ones gone before hovered round, ready to bear her away to the Haven of Eternal Rest, a look of perfect bliss came over the wreck of her former self, and her pure soul took anxious flight, and left its clay tenement lit up, as it were, with a smile of sweet content and perfect peace—asleep in the arms of Jesus.

T. M. W.

James Poor, an Aberdeener who is in the volunteer service at Ft. Schuyler, N. Y., had one of his arms accidentally shot off a few days ago.

"It is the little rift within the lute which, ever widening, makes the music mute." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often which gradually takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice. Perhaps the bug-bear which has frightened the woman from the timely help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded questions, the obnoxious examination, the local treatments, of the home physician. There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman, suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. Women are astonished at the results of the use of this medicine. It not only makes weak women "robust and rosy checked," but it gives them back the vigor and vitality of youth.

Free. Dr. Pierce's People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1,008 pages, is sent free on receipt of twenty-one 1-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
